DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1, 3-8, 11, 12, 14, 15, and 18-20 are allowed.

2. The following is an Examiner's Statement of Reasons for Allowance:

In interpreting the claims, in light of the specification and the applicant's amendments filed April 13th, 2009, the Examiner finds the claimed invention to be patentably distinct from the prior art of record. The prior art does not teach all of the limitations of the independent claims in combination with the other elements presented.

The prior art of record teaches synchronization of communication devices via various interfaces such as the web, networked clients, or cellular devices (Luzzatti, abstract). The synchronization is sent out based on events that trigger the update process (Luzzatti, see figs. 2-6 and abstract). The prior art also teaches remote service providers that provision and update mobile devices with synchronized configuration information based on event triggers (Knowles, abstract and figs. 1-3).

However, as per claims 1, 3-8, 11, 12, 14, 15, and 18-20, the prior art fails to teach storing mobile configuration data in a network subscriber database, where the mobile station is used to change that remote configuration data directly using the mobile station interface, the data is downloaded and applied back to the mobile station, wherein the remote configuration data is updated in the network subscriber database and then downloaded to the mobile station if the configuration data was updated via user interfaces unassociated with the mobile station, and wherein when a PC-based application interface locally reconfigures data directly on the mobile station, the mobile station then sends the reconfigured data to the network subscriber database for storage. These limitations distinguish the claimed invention from the prior art of record when taken in the environment of the full claim language.

3. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

4. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Nicholas Taylor whose telephone number is (571) 272-3889. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday, 8:00am to 5:30pm, with alternating Fridays off.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Rupal Dharia can be reached on (571) 272-3880. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is (571) 273-8300.
